

Accidental Death Protection Plan

Because Accidents Don't Come with a Warning

An Extra Layer of Protection for the Unexpected

It's better to have it and not need it than to need it and not have it.

You may already have life insurance — whether it's an individual policy or coverage through your employer. And that's a smart move. But here's the question most people don't think about: What if your death is caused by an accident?

In today's world, the risk is real. Distracted drivers are everywhere — texting, scrolling social media, barely paying attention to the road. We've all been there: driving along and someone suddenly swerves into your lane. Maybe you caught it in time. But accidents happen every day to people who didn't.

The What-If's Are Real

An accidental death can happen in ways no one expects. A car accident on the way to work. A pedestrian struck by a distracted driver. A fall. A workplace incident. These aren't things anyone plans for — but they happen every single day.

Auto Accidents

Distracted driving, road hazards, and collisions remain a leading cause of accidental death.

Pedestrian Accidents

Walking, jogging, or crossing the street — one distracted driver can change everything.

Workplace Accidents

Construction, machinery, falls, and industrial incidents claim thousands of lives every year.

Everyday Accidents

Falls at home, recreational activities, and unforeseen events that happen when least expected.

How This Plan Works

If an accidental death occurs, the full benefit is paid directly to your beneficiaries — on top of any existing life insurance you already have. It's an additional layer of protection for your family, and for a small monthly premium, you can have the peace of mind knowing the unexpected is covered.

This plan doesn't replace your existing coverage — it adds to it. Think of it as filling the gap between what you have and what your family would actually need if an accident took you away from them.

Why Families Choose This Plan

- ✓ Affordable
A small monthly premium buys significant accidental death coverage
- ✓ Stacks with Existing Coverage
Pays in addition to any life insurance you already have
- ✓ 100% Cash Back Option
Qualifying policyholders may receive all premiums back if never used
- ✓ Portable
This is your policy — it stays with you regardless of your employer
- ✓ Peace of Mind
Coverage for the what-if's that no one sees coming

100% Cash Back — A Plan That Pays You Back

Here's something most people don't expect from an insurance plan: depending on your age, you may qualify for a policy that gives you 100% of your premiums back if the policy is never used. Every single dollar you paid in — returned to you.

That means you're either protected if the worst happens, or you get all of your money back if it doesn't. Either way, you win. Either way, your family wins.

If You Need It

Your family receives the full death benefit on top of any other life insurance you have. Additional financial protection when they need it most.

If You Don't Need It

You may receive 100% of every premium dollar you paid in — returned to you. You were protected the entire time, and you didn't lose a dime.

Added Protection — Not a Replacement

Whether you have an individual life insurance policy, group coverage through your employer, or both — this plan stacks on top. If an accident claims your life, your family receives the accidental death benefit in addition to whatever other coverage you already have in place.

Employer-provided life insurance is a great start, but it often comes with limitations — it may not be portable if you change jobs, and the coverage amounts may not be enough to fully protect your family. This plan stays with you regardless of where you work and gives your family an extra financial cushion when they need it most.

What About My Coverage at Work?

Employer-provided life insurance is a great start, but it often comes with limitations. It typically offers one to two times your annual salary — which may not be enough to fully protect your family. And if you change jobs or get laid off, that coverage usually goes with it.

An Accidental Death Protection Plan is yours. It stays with you regardless of where you work. It doesn't depend on your employer, and no one can cancel it but you. It's an affordable way to make sure your family has an extra financial cushion if the unexpected happens.

Accidents don't come with a warning. But you can make sure your family is prepared if the unexpected happens.
